Proverbs 3:5,6

Forbidden food

To a different world

Daniel and his friends lived in Jerusalem until King Nebuchadnezzar came, captured the city and took them to live in Babylon, 800 km away. They followed the trading routes of the day. These were not straight so they would have travelled more like 1,600 km.

Try and work out the way they went, on this map:

A long way from home

For Daniel and his friends, everything was so different in Babylon. Different way of speaking. Different food. Different type of house. Even a different type of school! Almost like being on a different planet!

What would you miss most if you were taken away from your home? Write or draw it here.
